

about us

Doorfix Ring-gard was established in 1979 and for over 30 years has been focused on providing a quality, comprehensive product range to the industrial and shutter door market throughout Ireland & the UK.

A steady growth pattern has enabled us to operate from our modern manufacturing facilities & local branches. We have installed modern machinery to utilize the latest techniques and stock superior quality parts and materials to expedite manufacture.

From our head office in Dublin and various regions throughout Ireland & the UK, we are fortunate to employ highly trained electrical and mechanical engineers who carry out installations for our own product range and repairs and maintenance to all types of industrial doors and shutters.

Our existing customer base includes the food processing, engineering, distribution, retail & commercial industries.

A strong management team is in place to maintain the ongoing product development and to ensure excellence of service.

From our nationwide offices, we offer advice on the right product or maintenance plan to suit your exact requirements.
